Program Overview

The Rockingham Assertive Outreach Service provides purposeful engagement with highly vulnerable street-present people. Assertive Outreach supports rough sleepers who are disengaged from mainstream services and have multiple complex issues. Assertive Outreach is a persistent and focussed response involving working closely with multiple service organisations. Another important role of assertive outreach is to reduce anti-social behaviour through regular and frequent engagement with rough sleepers.

The Rockingham Assertive Outreach Worker is part of the Housing First Rockingham and Mandurah team. Housing First is an international model for housing and supporting people who have experienced long term and reoccurring homelessness and who face a range of complex challenges. It supports strategies to end homelessness and is a methodology for effectively assisting some of the most vulnerable people in our community. This program is a new initiative led by St Patrick's Community Support Centre alongside Ruah Community Services and Wungening Aboriginal Corporation.

Position Intention

The Assertive Outreach Worker position is at the forefront of the organisation in providing client facing support interventions.

Supported by the Team Leader, you will provide a range of support interventions within a developmental framework that enables clients to address their needs.

Our service model focuses on ensuring people who are sleeping rough are linked into appropriate services to help them find and maintain suitable long-term accommodation. The Rockingham Assertive Outreach Service will focus on:

- Identifying people sleeping rough in their nominated area,
- Engaging people in appropriate services and refer them into housing or other suitable accommodation and/or services, and
- Working with Housing First Assertive Case Workers to support people to maintain their accommodation and prevent them from cycling back into homelessness.

The role provides support and assertive support interventions to clients in order to assist them in improving their mental health, general health and social wellbeing, accessing and maintaining housing, improving their quality of life, maximising self-management, independence and participation in the community.

Organisation Structure and Reporting

This role will work alongside a team of Assertive Outreach Workers and Assertive Case Workers who are responsible for the delivery of the assertive case- management of people within the identified target group.
